

AF-TA Sky design - Winner of the red*dot* design award: Product Design „best of the best 2011“

The design version of the Skytower, the “Sky design”, has absolutely convinced 2011 the judges of the red dot design award, one of the most renowned international product competitions.

The jury of highly respected experts has now awarded this desk connector panel with the “red dot: best of the best”, a prize reserved strictly for top design quality only.

In the red dot award: product design 2011, the distinguished jury had 4,433 products to choose from when awarding this special prize.:

“The KOMTECH connector panel „Sky design“ is a perfect combination of exclusive design and excellent workmanship.

Because of the silver powdered surface, the special design of cover and frame and its chamfered edges, the “Sky design” created a very special, modern and charismatic touch in conference rooms. The interior, noble rounded with a black plexiglass plate, is individual mountable. A sophisticated magnetic catch allows an easy access to the power and data connectors from all four sides.

Equipped with a media control, which offers a variety of functions the “Sky design” could be adapted customized.

Blue lighted keys are integrated spacesaving.

This enables the user a quickly access to the control functions even in dark rooms.”
